Webpages and their intended purpose

Homepage/Introduction- This page is the first page that a user will interact with, it sets the tone for what is to come from the rest of your website. It provides the user with the basic information about you. The homepage is used to pull the user in, to make them want to see and read more.

Professional Page- This page delves the user into your professional life, it shows them your resume which contains your accomplishments and experiences. This page allows you to sell yourself to the user, to build up their interest to want to know more about you. Additionally, this page gives them a brief description of your mission and vision statement along with the skillset you need to accomplish to follow your career path.

Personality Page – this page gives the user insights on your personality; it tells them a little bit about who you are as a person. It provides them with the opportunity to see how they relate to you.

Personal Development Page- this page allows the user to see your thought process based on how you reflect, relate and summarize the given chapter. It allows them to further investigate you as a person. It can also help them in verifying your skillset and qualities

Reference Page- this page will show all the resources that were used in creating this website

Story Board Page- this page gives insight on the website in its first stages of development. It answers questions like “did the website turn out how you had imagined it?”.

Theme of the Website

The theme that I was aiming for was a professional type design, with light pastel color background to bring forth the information placed on it and not overshadowing the information or making it hard to view. This will make the website welcoming and maintaining a professional view

List of Feature I intend to use

I intend to include:

- Images- these will make the page more appealing and lively instead of being filled with just words that will turn users off from engaging and reading.
- Navigation- this will ensure that users have an easy way to navigate the website from page to page
- social media- This will allow users to be able to find on contact me on relevant social media by incorporating icons with link
- pdf- this document will be used in and iframe to showcase my story board.
